

1929_03_21 HarryH_Robbery

1929_04_3_narrominenewsandtrangieadvocate

Western Age (Dubbo, NSW : 1914 - 1932) (about) Thursday 21 March 1929

"HIGHWAY" ROBBERY

A Mean Theft

On his way from Sydney to Cobar a few days ago Mr. Harry Holland, driving his recently-purchased motor lorry, carrying a load of corrugated iron, piping and troughing, ran out of petrol when within about five miles of Narromine.

He found it necessary to walk into Narromine to procure further supplies before he could continue his journey, and his surprise can be imagined when he returned to find that some person or persons had transferred the whole of his load, but had overlooked one important detail—to leave any address or the direction taken.

It is to be hoped that, for the protection of the travelling public, the miscreants can be located and when found made an example of.

The idea, that it is to be all wrong up to the fact early start, results after gardeners, fail to arrest incision, but by big heads blooms, and time.

With a possible to colon, but can be arranged shade are possible to stocks in shade, blue, violet, heliotrope, and lines of and planted to display will.

Seed sown at once. See accompanying results will be.

On his way from Sydney to Cobar recently Mr. Harry Holland, driving his recently-purchased motor lorry, carrying a load of corrugated iron, piping and troughing, ran out of petrol when within about five miles of Narromine. He found it necessary to walk into Narromine to procure further supplies before he could continue his journey, and his surprise can be imagined when he returned to find that some person or persons had transferred the whole of his load, but had overlooked one important detail—to leave any address or the direction taken. What Harry said when he landed back will not be printed in the "News."