Dear Nanny,

Have you given me up for lost I'm sure that if you never speak to me again it will only be what I deserve. But knowing your forgiving nature I have no qualms on the matter -

How are things with you I hope you are not working too hard I suppose Mother has told you about getting the house at Rose Bay next door to Rozelle its marvellous isn't it.

Unfortunately the house was in a dreadful state when we moved in it is really a bit on the small side for us - but really we were very fortunate to get it. We have painted the ceiling & papered the lounge room & next week we are going to do the dining room. So it should be very nice then. There is a very nice big garden & lawn. & soon as we get the inside fixed up we will start on the outside & am dying to have a nice garden

I had every intention of writing you for Xmas - as a matter of fact I did write but never posted it. What lost of one did you spend. I went home but we didn't keep it up in any way

For the past few weeks I have been a wreck of my former self on account of exams - & now I'm just waiting to hear the results & next week I sit for the State final exam - & on the 30th April I finish up. Love & thank goodness.

Paul has come back from Melbourne & Arch has been transferred down here to Herne Bay so for the first time in three years we have all been together.

Did you know Barrie has a baby boy a dear little one - a good child Elizabeth is just as sweet as ever

On Sunday afternoon I took Alice over to see Ethel Day & he behaved himself very well. Ethel is very well

I've never seen her look as well as she does now. It won't be long before she has her babe. Alan has been making the most beautiful furniture - there is no doubt he is a very handy person to have around.

I often wish you were home to give us a hand with fixing up the house. It will be nice for you to have a home when you come on leave. By that time everything should be very nice & you will be able to bring your girl friends home for dinner.

I'm on night duty & have been for 3 weeks - I do I wish be able to get my correspondence up to date.

All my dear ones is scarce. I haven't been anywhere seen anything or done anything I move the pity of so for the present. Cheer up

A good luck

Love from Ethel.
